

What's Wrong to Poor Jack—U. S. Skipper Worn-folk, &c.

Correspondence of The Tribune.

NORFOLK, Va. January 8, 1847.
MY DEAR GREELEY: A case of gross injustice in the part of the Government toward the sailors our Navy has come under my notice here, which wish to acquaint you with, as I think it calls for a reprobation that would prevent a recurrence, if possible.

Within a few days the ship-of-war Baraboo and Cumberland, which have arrived here, the former having returned disabled from an attempt to weather Cape Horn, on their way to join the Pacific Squadron, and the latter from the Gulf Squadron with the news of the retreat of the Russian and the remains of Lient. Morozoff. The time of service of a great many of these vessels has expired, and after a call at several ports, they are of course entitled to a discharge and discharge, that they may get their men and families, charged that they wait at this point, so near the seat of Government, and so important a Naval Depot, that the slightest difficulty could exist, and that there would be paid on gratuity. They are not friends here, nor are the sailor's cannot get their pay, so hardly earned in the service of their country, to be paid, and when they are thrown upon their own resources among the sharks of a service, they are often left without a discharge and pay paper certifying that such and such a vessel was due them for services.—

The Millidgeville papers contain an executive order, announcing that the interest on Georgia State Bonds will be paid in advance, at the Treasury, during the next year, as each class of bonds becomes due.

The following table will show the amount to the credit of the United States Treasurer, at the several depositories, on the 31st of December, 1846. As compared with the statement of the 23d of November last, it shows a diminution of $2,144,342 39.
